Murray Capill teaches at Reformed Theological College, Melbourne, where he is Dean of Ministry Development. He previously pastored churches in NZ and Australia for 15 years, and was Principal of RTC for 12 years.

He is married to Wendy, has five adult children, a growing number of grandchildren. Apart from loving ministry and training gospel workers, he enjoys hanging out with the family, good coffee, and time in the great outdoors.

Jo Gibbs lives in Sydney with her husband Mike and two lovely kids.

She is a Senior Consultant with the Reach Australia network developing thousands of healthy, evangelistic, multiplying churches right across Australia. After studying an MDiv at Sydney Missionary & Bible College she has served in South Asia with CMS, on church ministry teams and as CEO of a women's parachurch organisation.

She has a passion for building healthy teams and mobilising women for gospel ministry.

Richard Condie is the Anglican Bishop of Tasmania, where he leads their vision to be A Church for Tasmania, Making Disciples of Jesus. He has been teaching the bible for over 40 years, in the past on the faculty at Ridley College (an Anglican college training men and women for ministry), leading St Jude's Carlton (a large inner-city parish in Melbourne), and now as bishop.

He loves developing young leaders for ministry and has a passion for the local church and global mission. He is married to Helen, and they have two adult children. He loves making things out of wood and cooking complicated recipes in the kitchen.
